Little Urbanites Stroller Guide

Use the tips in the Little Urbanites stroller guide to select just the right stroller for your active lifestyle!

Compact/Travel

Jumping in and out of the car and hopping on planes...chase a compact and lightweight stroller that will keep up with your active lifestyle. These strollers fold quickly and compactly so that you can get in and out as swift as possible.

Suggestions:

- Bugaboo Bee ($529)
- Uppababy G-Lite ($129)
- Uppababy G-Luxe ($159)
- Quinny Buzz, ($199)
- Micralite Fastfold ($329)

Jogging/All-Terrain

If you are in need of a stroller that can take you from a morning workout to an afternoon of shopping and errands, an all terrain stroller is the stroller for you.

Suggestions:

- Bugaboo Cameleon ($899) and Frog ($759)
- Bob Revelotion ($429)
- Quinny Buzz ($529.99)
- Phil and Teds Sport Buggy ($400)
- Micralite Toro Stroller ($524.95-$699.95)

For the Hardcore Runner

If you are training for a marathon or want a stroller for serious workouts we have a few great options.

Suggestions:

- Bob Sport Utility ($299),
- Bob Ironman ($349)

Double/Transitional

If you have more than one child or want a stroller that will accommodate more than one child in the future, you should look to a stroller with optional toddler seat or riding board.

Suggestions:

- Phil and Teds Sport Buggy ($400) and Vibe ($600),
- Bugaboo Frog($759) and Cameleon ($899),
- Uppababy Vista ($649.99),
- Bob Revolution Duallie ($569)
- Ironman Duallie ($479) and the Sport Utility Stroller Duallie ($429)

Off the Ground

If you live in a more metropolitan area and are concerned about your child being low to the ground and in the direct line of car exhaust, these are the strollers for you. A stroller with a high seat is also beneficial because your baby is closer to you. This feature allows for parent-child bonding and an increased feeling of security. If you are a tall parent, these strollers are ergonomically designed to be comfortable for your back!

Suggestions:

- Stokke Xplory ($999),
- Uppababy Vista ($649.99)
